

BIBLIOGRAPHY

Aronson, L. “‘Good’ Patients and ‘Difficult’ Patients – Rethinking Our Definitions.” The New England Journal of Medicine 369, no. 9 (August 29, 2013): 796-797.

Bernat, J.L. “Life or Death for the Dead-Donor Rule?” The New England Journal of Medicine 369, no. 14 (October 3, 2013): 1289-1291.

Colbert, J.A., J. Schulte, and J.N. Adler. “Physician-Assisted Suicide – Polling Results.” The New England Journal of Medicine 369, no. 11 (September 12, 2013): e15.

Daly, Daniel J. “Unreasonable Means: Proposing A New Category For Catholic End-of-Life Ethics.” Christian Bioethics 19, no. 1 (April 2013): 40-59.

McCurden, Patrick. “The Affordable Care Act and Community Benefit: A Mandate Catholic Health Care Can (Partly) Embrace.” Kennedy Institute of Ethics Journal 23, no. 3 (September 2013): 229-248.

Parmet, W.E. “Holes in the Safety Net – Legal Immigrants’ Access to Health Insurance.” The New England Journal of Medicine 369, no. 7 (August 15, 2013): 596-598.

Scornik, H. “In the Shadows.” The New England Journal of Medicine 369, no. 7 (August 15, 2013): 598.

Sommers, B.D. “Stuck between Health and Immigration Reform – Care for Undocumented Immigrants.” The New England Journal of Medicine 369, no. 7 (August 15, 2013): 593-595.

Truog, R.D., F.G. Miller, and S.D. Halpern. “The Dead-Donor Rule and the Future of Organ Donation.” The New England Journal of Medicine 369, no. 14 (October 3, 2013): 1287-1289.